My Tasks

Task Management

My Tasks

The primary context for the My Tasks page is to show all the tasks for “you” as a team member on all your assigned projects

1. Click My Tasks on the Projects page
2. Apply Filters – the project filter only shows projects where you have at least one assigned task. The Status filter can be used to display open or completed tasks
3. Update Tasks – You can update tasks in the grid
  - The blue shaded conversation icon tells you other comments were already made. Click the conversation icon to start a new conversation or reply to the last comment. The to-do list, assigned staff, and task details tabs also appear.
  - When a task is finished, you can mark it complete directly in the Status column.
  - As a team member viewing your own tasks, when you click a task you see it inside its parent project on the project task list or task board.
  - As a project manager viewing the My Tasks page, when you click a task, the application opens the default tabbed page for the parent project.
4. Personalize the My Tasks list - You can sort on a single column, resize columns, drag-and-drop to reorder columns, and pin columns left or right.

Project Tasks

Project tasks identify the work that is required to complete a project.

- The Work Breakdown Structure (WBS) for a project includes phases, milestones, and tasks.
- You can also break down tasks into to-do items.
- A phase groups related tasks and milestones under it and displays the aggregated actuals and ETC for the tasks.
- Milestones help you track and measure progress.
- Tasks have a defined start date and end date, and a period in between when the work is performed.
- Project managers typically assign staff members to tasks and set milestones to measure their progress

Project Tasks Views

There are various ways of viewing/managing tasks within projects

1. By default, the project tasks appear in a List View on the Tasks page.
2. Click Board View on the top right of the page to view the task board. In the Board View, the tasks appear as cards organized by columns
3. Click Grid View on the top right of the page to view the task grid. In the Grid View, the tasks appear as rows of data.
4. You can also open tasks in a Gantt view or optional integrated scheduler directly from this page (eg MSP).
